Big Ants of Africa

Of a species of African ant, Du Chailu has the following to say: "I do not think they build a nest or home of any kind. At any rate, they eat their prey on the spot. It is their habit to march through the forests in a long, regular line—a line about two inches wide and often several miles in length. All along this line are the largest ants, who act as officers, standing outside the ranks to keep the singular army in order. If they come to a place where there are no trees to shelter them from the sun, whose heat they cannot bear, they immediately build underground tunnels, through which the whole army passes in columns to the forest beyond. These tunnels are four or five feet underground and are used only in the heat of the day or during a storm. When they grow hungry, the whole file spreads itself through the forest in a front line and attacks and devours all that it overtakes. Even the elephant and the gorilla fly before this attack. The black men run for their lives. Every animal which lives in their lines of march is chased. In an incredibly short time the moose, the leopard or deer is overwhelmed, killed and eaten, and the bare skeleton only remains. They seem to travel night and day.

"Their manner of attack is an impetuous leap. Instantly the strong pincers are fastened, and they only let go when the pieces of flesh they hold gives way. At such times this little animal seems animated by a kind of fury, which causes it to disregard entirely its own safety and to seek only the conquest of prey. Their bite is very painful. The native negroes relate that in former times criminals were exposed in the path of these ants as the most cruel manner of putting them to death."

BRYAN, THREATENED BY CRANK, HAS BODYGUARD

[By Latest Mail] WASHINGTON.—Secretary of State Bryan has had several of the white house messengers of the state department sworn in as United States marshals in order to permit them to bear arms and serve him as a personal bodyguard. This action was based upon knowledge conveyed to him that a crank had been in the department seeking an opportunity to do him injury.

Yesterday afternoon the prosecution in the Sylvester conspiracy case rested. Attorney McBride then asked for a directed verdict. This was denied and then witnesses for the defense were put on the stand. The case will probably last several days more.

UNKNOWN FIGHTER TAKES POOR OLD WOLGAST'S NUMBER

[By Latest Mail] HUDSON, Wis. — Johnny Tillman, a boxer practically unknown, beat Ad Wolgast, former lightweight champion, in a 10-round go here. Newspaper men at the ringside gave Tillman five of the rounds and the remaining five were declared even. Wolgast, therefore, did not have a single round to his credit.

Tillman went to work early in the contest, and in the third round he landed a terrific right swing on Wolgast's nose, which brought the blood in a stream. From then on Tillman kept the ex-champion on the jump to avoid his left jabs to the injured nose.

Wolgast spent most of his time in the last three rounds in attempting to land a "haymaker" and thus win the contest on a knockout. But Tillman worked cleverly and the "wildcat" punches whizzed harmlessly through the air.

Though Wolgast complained before he entered the ring that his injured hand was still paining him, he did not fight like a man whose fists were in any way impaired.

BANKERS EXPECT STAMP TAX LAW IN CASE OF WAR

[By Latest Mail] ST. LOUIS.—If the Mexican situation increases to such serious proportions as to require an invasion of that country by the United States, St. Louis bankers are of the opinion that the president will invoke the stamp tax law to raise sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of war.

The second source of war revenue, in the opinion of local bankers, will be an increase in the present income tax. It is pointed out that during the
